

THE CATARRH OF SUMMER

Two Letters From Thankful Women Who Were Cured of Catarrh of the Stomach by Per-ru-na.

MRS. EMILY LYON, 218 Richmond street, London, Ontario, writes:

"I am pleased to inform you that I am entirely cured of catarrh of the stomach by the persistent use of Per-ru-na. I suffered everything and took everything both from physicians and proprietary medicines, but got no relief until I tried Per-ru-na, and it will always be with the loudest praise that I recommend this wonderful remedy. Per-ru-na."—Miss Emily Lyon.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually called dyspepsia. Catarrh dyspepsia cannot be cured by pepper powders and temporary relief. The only cure for real dyspepsia is a removal of the catarrh from the mucous membrane of the stomach. This Per-ru-na will do it. Per-ru-na has done thousands and thousands of times.

Congressman Botkin of Kansas was cured of catarrh of the stomach of many years' standing. Hundreds of other cases have been reported to us through unverified testimonials. Per-ru-na is the only intestinal systemic remedy for catarrh yet devised. Every one afflicted with catarrh in the slightest degree ought to take a course of Per-ru-na.

Mrs. Nancy Ogden, Armel, Frederick County, Va., writes:

"If anyone had told me that Per-ru-na would cure the heart-burn and sour stomach as long as I have had it I could not have believed it, but it has after so many years standing."

"I have had it for thirty-five years. Have doctorred with everything that I have heard of, and have tried some of the best doctors, but all did no good."

"The trouble is that they could not cure it, and that we always praise Per-ru-na. If anyone wishes to write to me I will be glad to answer them."—Mrs. Nancy Ogden.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Per-ru-na write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice free of charge.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

THIS GIRL COULD KEEP A SECRET

MISS HELEN LEIGHTON HAD BEEN MRS. RUTLEDGE SINCE DEC. 27.

WERE MARRIED AT ST. CHARLES

The Young Couple Augmented Their Own Christmas Cheer by Their Wedding, Since Unseen.

Another woman's name has been added to the list of those who have proven their ability to keep a secret.

Miss Helen Leighton of 5245 McPherson avenue is the one who has gained this distinction by keeping the secret of her marriage to Mr. Robert Rutledge, which took place Dec. 27.

Miss Leighton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Leighton, and Mr. Rutledge is the son of Robert Rutledge of 4425 Morgan street.

The youth of the young people was the only objection raised to their marriage. This, in a manner, was removed, to their minds, last fall of Miss Leighton's younger sister, Miss Edna Leighton, and Oscar Conroy, of 2125 Morgan street.

During the Christmas holidays they decided that their marriage be a fitting end to the gaieties of the season, the journeying of the young couple, where the knot was tied by the Rev. Dr. Davis. On their return to the city each returned home, and for ten months has closely kept the secret.

Mr. Rutledge has been a constant visitor at the right home, where, by the way, the young couple are now living, for the last five years.

"Well, let me tell you then, that unless you get down here earlier and work a great deal harder you'll never get it in this world."

SHERIFF DICKMANN WAS "THEATRICAL"

Four Courts officials are disgusted with what they term the theatrical methods of Sheriff Joseph F. Dickmann in arranging to serve the bench warrants on the indicted members of the last House of Delegates Monday.

They say he marched his 18 deputies from the courthouse to the Four Courts Monday morning like a military officer would march his soldiers on dress parade.

They paraded two abreast with the portly form of the Democratic sheriff at their head and attracted considerable attention en route.

He had been ordered to bring the deputies to the Four Courts and conceal them in a room so that no attention would be attracted to their movements. This portion of the plan the sheriff carried out.

"But what was the good of hiding them in a room?" said a Four Courts official Tuesday morning. "If they had been paraded through the streets before being placed in the room?"

It is known that some of the men wanted were "tipped off" that they were wanted before the deputy sheriffs reached them and some of the Four Courts officials express the opinion that possibly the parade of the deputies through the streets occasioned the leak.

Sheriff Dickmann said to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning that he did not receive the warrants for the 18 members of the last House until 11:45 o'clock Monday morning.

"At 11 o'clock Monday morning the news of the indictments was published. That gave the men we were after a chance to hide before the deputies reached them.

"But we got nine of them during the afternoon and we will get all the others today. I feel sure, except Tamblyn and Madera.

THE SEARCH FOR THE FUGITIVES

The search for the eight indicted men who have thus far eluded the police and deputy sheriffs became the principal business of both classes of officers Tuesday morning, after the night had passed without the capture of any of the men sought.

The homes and accustomed haunts of Edmund Bersch, Julius Lehmann, Charles F. Kelly, Louis Decker, Adolph Madera, "Kid" Sheridan, Charles J. Denny and Louis Decker were watched by policemen all night. These watchers were relieved Tuesday morning by other policemen and deputy sheriffs.

Sheriff Kelly has offered to place the entire police force, if needed, at the disposal of the circuit attorney in aid of the deputy sheriffs. The places of egress from the city have been guarded, and bridges, stations, ferries and street car terminals are being closely watched about the house.

Policeman Halloran had kept an all-night vigil on the sidewalk in front. "If there's anybody in that house, they're keeping mighty quiet," he declared.

In the adjoining planing mill, which Lehmann since owned, nothing had been seen of the man who "put der lights on the water tower."

"I don't think Lehmann has skipped," said Al Gundlach, proprietor of the mill. "He is out looking for a bomsund, and it's not very easy to find a $30,000 bomsund offhand."

Lehmann still owns the planing mill building, but has disposed of the machinery, and the men in charge say, seldom visits the place.

A neighbor who knows Lehmann well declared that he had not disappeared for good, and would surrender himself as soon as he found a new bomsund.

"Julius isn't the sort that skips out," he said. "I'd much sooner think that he had seen much of them as a rule."

"I have seen Mr. Bersch for several days," said a handsomely-dressed woman who answered the bell at No. 2025. "I haven't seen the family since early yesterday afternoon, but they may have been here since that, for all I know. I don't see much of them as a rule."

"I was told that Ed Bersch was around neighborhood," said a neighbor residing across the Twenty-first street side of the house another family resides.

The house is a three-story cream brick, and looks like a mansion among the small frame and red brick houses surrounding it. Lace curtains are at the windows.

The curtains barred sight into the house as the door stood open. The doorknob was rung in vain.

"I have seen Mr. Bersch for several days," said a neighbor residing across the Twenty-first street side of the house another family resides.

The effectual remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"We haven't seen a sign of Bersch or any one in the house all night," declared Madero. "Once we heard the telephone bell in the house ring, but we listened and can hear nothing answering. I don't believe anyone is in the house."

The Lehmann home is a large, but plain, frame house, painted white, at 3017 North Twenty-third street. Here it is that the famous "birthday party" was held, at which, says J. K. Murrell, the $47,500 paid to the combine for their votes on the lighting bill was distributed by "Business Agent" Kelly to his 18 compatriots who had passed the measure.

Lehmann is now under a heavy bond on his appeal to the Supreme Court from his conviction for perjury.

HARTMANN NOT.

HOME LAST NIGHT.

Former Delegate Emil Hartmann stayed away from home Monday night. Policemen Maher, Butler and Coleman took turns in watching his place of residence at 205 St. George street, but Hartmann did not return.

Deputies are still detailed to watch the house, in the hope of obtaining some clue to the whereabouts of this member of the marked 18.

Hartmann occupies an upstairs tenement flat. To enter his home one must pass through the narrow space between two buildings and ascend the stairs at the rear.

The only entrance to the flat is through the kitchen, from the back porch.

Early Tuesday morning the only occupants of the tenement were Hartmann's 10-year-old son, Emil, and his little daughter.

The boy said his father had not been at home during the night.

DECKER'S FIRST NIGHT AWAY FROM HOME.

Former Delegate Louis Decker remained away from home Monday night. Mrs. Decker says for the first time since his marriage, except on nights after elections, when ballots are being counted.

There is pressure on the bell-button at Decker's home, 9625 Pennsylvania avenue, to ring him up on response Tuesday morning. In the backyard a small child was seen playing. Two other children were in the kitchen.

"Is your father at home?" the children were asked.

"No," replied one, "but my mamma is." The child was requested to call Mrs. Decker. She came downstairs looking pale and nervous. She said her husband had not been home since Monday morning, and that she had received no message from him, and had not the slightest idea as to his whereabouts.

"New since our marriage," said Mrs. Decker.

Tamblyn who was arrested and desires to return to St. Louis at once.

He requested that an officer be sent after him with as little delay as possible.

Chief of Police Kelly went into consultation with Circuit Attorney Folk over the matter.

When the warrant for Tamblyn, as one of the men implicated by John K. Murrell's confession, was made out Monday, Chief Kelly at once wired the police authorities to arrest the former delegate.

The Cleveland police did the work promptly.

Detective George Kelly departed Tuesday morning for St. Louis. He expects to return Wednesday with his prisoner.

"KID" SHERIDAN

STILL AT LARGE.

"Sheridan will be the hardest man in the bunch to catch."

This was the opinion expressed by Deputy Sheriff Freesmeyer, who spent Monday in looking for the redoubtable "Kid," former delegate from the Fourth ward.

"Sheridan has no money or property to speak of," said Freesmeyer, "and everyone says it would be impossible for him to get back to town. He is a浪人, roaming home or business less, and I believe he has slept."

The deputy sought Sheridan at 45 Main street, which is his latest known place of abode, and at the Suburban Garden, where he spent much of his time. No trace of him could be obtained at either place.

Sheridan is a beer salesman. He was never elected to the House, and never claimed a record of votes. The Murrells, regularly elected delegates from the Fourth ward, on the ground that he had been convicted of selling lottery tickets, and was disqualified by that fact from serving as a delegate.

Vogel took the case to the courts, and was denied restoration to his seat, but had the sanction of keeping Sheridan from drawing any salary from the city for his services.

The Decker home is the finest in the neighborhood. It shows the evidence of prosperity. The lawn is beautifully kept, flowers and shrubs growing along the fence.

PROSECUTING WIFE FAINTED IN COURT

HAD JUST TESTIFIED AGAINST HER HUSBAND.

REVIVED BY DEPUTY MARSHAL

Judge Tracy Stayed Her Husband's Fine When She Interceded for Him.

Mrs. Herman Wilke of 3154 Clifton place fainted in the Dayton Street Police Court Tuesday morning just after she had prosecuted her husband for disturbing her peace. She was revived by Deputy Marshal McNamee and Flannery.

The fine was stayed by Judge Tracy. The fine was stayed "on good behavior." Mrs. Wilke, who claimed her husband created a disturbance at their home Saturday, said she that abused her and inflicted bodily injuries. She was excited while on the witness stand, and after she left the chair and had taken a seat in the courtroom she fainted. Deputy Marshal McNamee dashed water in her face, and after she was revived she was escorted to the marshal's office.

Mrs. Wilke did not want to have her husband punished, and interceded for him. Judge Tracy stayed the fine.

AGAINST YOUTHS PLAYING POOL

Attorney Johnson Issues Warrant for Poolroom Proprietor Under an Old Law.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson has found that there is an old law in effect which prohibits billiard and poolroom proprietors from allowing minors to learn to play pool in their places or to play in them after closing.

According to him today issued a warrant for Frank Roberts of 2705 Morgan street, who is charged by Mrs. Mary Schaeffer, 2028 Monroe avenue, and Mrs. John K. Murrill 2707 Morgan street, with allowing their sons, under 17 years of age, to play pool in his place.

They allege that the habits and morals of the boys are suffering as a result.

Provisional Government Declares Foreign Ships Shall Not Be Admitted.

HAMBURG, Sept. 9.—According to information received from the Hayven consulate here, the provisional government of Saint Marc has closed all ports of Gonaives in consequence of disturbances on the island.

The provisional president, Bolardou Canal, has issued instructions that bills of lading, manifests, etc., for these ports be not issued for the present.

LIGHTING SCANDAL LEFT CITY IN DARKNESS 60 DAYS

Combine in the House of Delegates of 1899-1900 Held St. Louis at Its Mercy—Gang Members Got $47,500 for Their Votes.

The purpose of the combine was to control legislation and sell legislation for the benefit of the members of the combine.

Shortly before the Suburban bill the combine sold their votes on the lighting bills for $47,500. This money was handled by Kelly and was paid to the members of the combine at a meeting arranged for that purpose at Julius Lehmann's house. Each member of the combine received $2500. I was present and saw the money paid to the various parties.—From J. K. Murrell's confession.

The men who made up the combine at the 1899-1900 session of the House of Delegates, for all of whom warrants have been issued, held St. Louis at their mercy for a period of 60 days, during which time various sections of the city were in absolute darkness, because of their failure coupled with a positive refusal, to pass the temporary lighting bills.

The combine, including the City Hospital, Poorhouse, City Dispensary, Female Hospital and City Jail, were without electric or gas illumination, and coal oil lamps and candles were pressed into service. The only illuminating apparatus combination was the Insane Asylum.

Dr. Edward C. Runge, unwilling to incur the expense of lighting the asylum in such a dangerous way, put $5 out of his own pocket to secure a continuance of electric lighting during a

REFUSED TEMPORARY BILLS.

On Nov. 10, 1899, the Board of Public Improvement submitted three ordinances to the House of Delegates authorizing the latter body to enter into temporary contracts for the lighting of the city until permanent contracts became operative.

One of the bills provided for the lighting of the greater part of the city until Sept. 1, 1900, upon which date it was expected another new permanent contract would go into effect.

Another bill provided for the lighting of city institutions and institutions, approximately for 28 months.

The third bill authorized the Board of Public Improvement to make contracts for the lighting of certain streets and parks not included in the other bills.

This proposed legislation of important and momentous importance was introduced by Speaker Edward E. Murrell (brother of J. K. Murrell), to the public improvements committee.

Adolph Madero.

George E. Burke.

J. K. Murrell.

The committee and their colleagues in the House knew the city institutions and many streets and alleys would be in total darkness after the 28 months unless these bills received prompt consideration.

Yet no action was taken, and reference to the records shows the Christmas adjournment, just as if no emergency existed.

UNPRECEDENTED INDIFFERENCE

The lighting situation presented a spectacle of unparalleled indifference on the part of the Municipal Assembly.

Nearly 20 bills had been submitted by the public improvements board between Jan. 17, 1899, and June 1, 1900, authorizing the making of a new contract permitting that contract to pass by a combine vote and rumors that money had been used were persistent at the City Hall.

However, she said, "I like his early stories, his 'Old Crook' days, but I have a hard time to quite understand what he means by that book, 'The Cavalier.' How could a child understand that?"

"Suppose you take Mary E. Wilkins," she said, "she is a good writer, but still they could hardly be given to children."

She went on, "I like his early stories, his 'Old Crook' days, but I have a hard time to quite understand what he means by that book, 'The Cavalier.' How could a child understand that?"

The style of Robert Louis Stevenson is good, but I have never been able to read him in any case. Perhaps they may be good for children, who can understand them."

As to Hamlin Garland, while I think he is a good writer, he is not an observer, even the Youth's Companion publishes love stories these days.

"I don't know whether children would read him, whether they are old enough to understand him or not. I have a daughter who has read him, and she likes him very much."

Twain's books, she said, would not attract any children, whether they are old enough to understand him or not.

VERSE IN BIBLE PROMPTED MURDER

Preacher Shed Wife's Blood
for Remission of Sin.

CUT HER THROAT WITH RAZOR

INTERPRETATION OF PASSAGE MADE HIM A DEMON.

When Neighbors Gathered in Response to Servant Girl's Warning, Aged Minister Quickly Disappeared in a Forest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
GENOA, W. Va., Sept. 14.—"Without the shedding of blood, there can be no remission of sin," read the Rev. Morris Wilson.
He had read his Bible often, but it is thought he never saw the passage before,
as the reading had amazingly disagreeable results, for straightforwardly he began to shed blood.

It is fortunate that he never saw the declaration written for there is no telling what would have been done.

His 80-year-old wife was asleep in bed nearby, so he began on her. She was mortally wounded, but survived, having cut an blade of a razor across her throat several times from ear to ear.

The minister was no doubt enacted while the aged woman was asleep, but this will never be known, as the servant girl who was asleep in an adjoining room. She says she heard no stirring, but was awakened by noise almost demon-like, caused by the aged man par-reading from his Bible.

Gripped Razor as He Read Passage.

A light was burning brightly, and peering from her room through a door partly ajar, she saw the old minister reading from the Bible, while in the other hand he held a razor tightly clinched, blood dripping from it.

On the bed, her face covered with blood, lay the prostrate form of the aged man's wife, her head almost severed from her body.

The old person was reading from the scripture which he had been reading, and he continued repeating in tones of exultation the words: "Without the shedding of blood, there can be no remission of sin."

The girl immediately screamed and ran out, shouting to the neighbors. The neighbor gave the alarm, and twenty or more persons of the quiet little village gathered.
The old man was found calmly walking from the house, his clothes torn, but with the name of the Lord.

Neighbors Were Dumbfounded.

So dumbfounded were the neighbors that they did not notice the parson's departure, and a few minutes later, when he could not be found, it probably went directly to his home, and in the rear of the little town and no doubt he was in hiding. He must soon surrender, as it is so feasible that escape would be impossible.

Mr. Wilson was a year ago a minister of the Baptist Church in this region, and he had frequently filled the feelings of pulpit of the state. For a year he and his wife had been living a quiet life, and he had departed.
The Lord's will be done, blessed be the name of the Lord."

THE HEN WAS HOOKED.

Story of the Boys, the Dog and the Tempting Worm.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 7.—It was the horse that was scared by the dog that chased the hen that grabbed the worm that was on the hook that Jack baited that made most trouble over in the Pontiac district in Pittsfield, Mass., last week.
than a whole drove of one-time indians employed in the section would have stirred such a commotion. But the hen was tempted by the worm which it caught in a fishhook and found out the most exciting part of the story. The flutter and flounce of the hen which had under cover on account of the worm and he broke away, but was captured again and again until he was captured and hung up.

When the show came up two owners of horses who had been out driving went to the stable for protection from the rain.
A dog, a couple of hours later, had been flying and, contrary to all Sunday school precept, the boys had about all the enjoyment that was possible in the world. The boy with the fishing tackle hurriedly and stood the poles in the shed while the bat was still on the branch. The boy with the worm and the hook was still hanging from the branch and noted one of the worms hanging temptingly in midair. She made a snap and the worm was hooked.

Her cries and flurries brought a yellow dog to the scene. The dog, after some time, had a good time, but it did not count for much, and being flying

To Be on the Outside of the Car and Letters May Be Mailed Without Stopping.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The present system of collecting mail from the car letter boxes by carrier, in cities, is considered crude, inadequate, and not at all efficient or safe. It is a system that cannot be used in an immense ad ant age city. In this latter case one must remain in the car passes before one steps on the back platform; and, all the while one's attention is constantly fixed on this place. Only a part of a moment is consumed in completing a letter.

"Now, very naturally, an impulse of prejudice leads us to believe that the act of mailing a letter on a moving car would be more difficult, more complicated than that of taking passage on a car.
But here many acts of mailing letters in places are instantaneous than would be that of merely 'dropping' a letter?"

Mailing Easier
Than Boarding a Car.

In reliability, this letter posting would be something indefinitely simpler, more direct, less disconcerting to the average man, or woman either, and accomplished also with possibly a hundredth part of the difficulty or risk now involved in boarding a car. In this latter case one must remain in the car passes before one steps on the back
platform; and, all the while one's attention is constantly fixed on this place. Only
a part of a moment is consumed in completing a letter.

"And have you ever observed the initiation, yet nicely graduated action of the present modern car brake? All in an instant does a 'check' a car speeding toward you? It seems to be a matter of fact that it governs it, holding it a moment or two at a small's pace, then re-eases the car to its former headway as quickly as it was halted."

"On the steam railway system, mail is removed from road cars, and a dangerous arrangement would, in this case, place
'transfer' agents at such points of intersection of electric roads as would make the nearest connection for mail transferred from roads not running to the postoffice to those running there. Collectors over a distance of ten or twelve square miles could thus be focused at the very door of the postoffice. Retaining the mail boxes, the car would be compelled to shift their mail contents to the car box."

Postmen do not now find children of tender age attempting to ride; they would not find them attempting to post letters on the side of every street car which is near the sidewalk. The boy must be educated to the hand of the depositor.

"The mechanical design also calls for a kind of use on street cars, to be precisely explained: 'It is when I shall be able to drop letters on the sidewalk, and then when I shall be able to drop letters into another (even contiguous) line of the local traction system.'

The arrest of a large number of aristocrats in the duchy was taken out, but it was a more serious affair than the arrest of the hen, which she had taken with her worm. The job was finally accomplished, but the husband did not take the matter as seriously as did the others.
They announced that they were amanuensis that if there are no more foolish heads

GAME PIETY IN MAINE.

More Deer and Moose Than Have Been Known for Years.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 7.—Big game has increased wonderfully of late. Warren F.
Lowe, who has just returned from a four weeks' hunting trip in the woods of Maine, reports hunting success more than ever before in his experience, and at least a hundred moose, all the latter in his entire journey of 200 miles.
In his entire journey of 200 miles, however, Mr. Lowe did not see a single caribou.
He thinks it is because the caribous have completely deserted Maine. Caribous are migratory, and very swift travelers, and it is thought that the herd that once游过了 Waterville has gone far north toward the lake.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The regularization committee of the Metropolitan Association of Anti-Saloon Societies, John C. Shedd and H. Oberstusenius, had a short Sunday and suspended Jerry Koch, the Postmaster, for a cut of clothes and a cigar, in violation of the rules of the association.

The healthy woman need not fear the chancery which comes as the beginning of life's autumn. It is the woman who is worn out, run down and a sufferer from womanly diseases who naturally fears the change of life. This is a critical period of woman's life, and the prevalence of womanly diseases makes it the duty of every woman who would avoid unnecessary suffering to take special care of herself at this time.

The lills which vex so many women at the change of life are entirely avoided or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong, and enables the weakest to pass through this trying change with the tranquility of perfect health.

"I have had a hard time, and this is the first time it has been very hard with me," writes Mrs. Maggie Morris, of Muscong Station, Clearedge Co., Pa. "I am come to the time of change of life, and I have had a great deal off and on. When Mrs. Hemmings moved beside me I was sick in bed, and when she came to see me we talked about my condition. Dr. Hemmings told me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took it and it has been a great help to me. It has given me a great deal of good, and I got two more bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I am now much better, and have such a wonderful cure. Before I commenced your remedies I was good for nothing; I was in bed all day long, and when I got up what with myself, now I can do all my work myself and sleep well."

Pierce came to Atlanta from Carrollton a few days ago for the purpose of getting work. He had been here only about three days when he made himself almost as great a wonder as the fellow who 'eat 'em alive' on the Midway.

SINGLE SOLDIERS FAVORED.
Ban Is on Army Privates Who Have Wives.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—General Chaffee has deeded the practice of enlisting soldiers marrying Filipino women of sufficient importance to report up to him. He wishes to be allowed to enlist enlisted men who marries without permission of his commanding officer will run the risk of being dismissed from the service. The general's action is based on the fact that his marriage has impaired his capacity for duty.

Gen. Chaffee says that rather than complain of a soldier's excuse to desert the service, he would discharge without honor.

When a soldier is discharged without honor state that he is not married. That's if he marries later without the permission of his commanding officer he will be held to have violated his enlistment contract.

Army chaplains have the right to marry anyone, but they are not allowed to do so without the consent of the commanding officer. General Chaffee has issued a circular to all the army men in which he says that married men with enlisted men in the army, inasmuch as at posts there are limited accommodations even for married officers and officers' wives.

If soldiers in the Philippines marry native women and then return to the United States they will be held to have violated their enlistment contracts.

Another citizen saw a man slip something squirm under his shirt bosom and when he walked from the tent and cried for help, a telephone message to the police baracks gave full information. The men who were standing around said the officer had told them to examine his fangs and had a pressing engagement across the street.

HIS EYE IS ON THE WHITE HOUSE

Tom L. Johnson Assumes a Candidate.

AS HIS FRIENDS SEE IT

SHREWD MOVE MADE IN OHIO CONVENTION.

Johnson, a Correspondent Writes, Has No Entangling Alliances and is the Recognized Leader in His Own State.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The Democrats of Ohio regard Tom L. Johnson as the logical candidate of the Democracy for the presidency in 1904. William E. Curtis, staff correspondent of a Chicago paper, who has looked over the situation in Ohio, concludes that Johnson has stripped himself for the fight. He has no entangling alliances. He has disposed of all his stock in corporations. He has no enemies in his own state. He has nothing to explain, and is creating issues every day in his efforts at municipal reform. Mayor Johnson is coming out strong during the approaching campaign in Ohio. Being solely responsible for the management of the campaign, and will make the opening speech of the campaign in the state on the 11th inst., he will take about half way between Cleveland and Sandusky, built up around a steel mill he established there.

Johnson has adopted the same methods which have proved successful in his municipal contests. He has already organized himself with a big tent which will seat 2,500 people and has engaged a gang of circus canvasmen, clowns, and acrobats to form an outfit in regular circus style. His caravan will move from place to place through the state. Ohioans will be asked to come to keep that tent moving until the day before the election, and will furnish most of the entertainment. It will be impossible for him to appear at every meeting owing to his municipal duties and responsibilities, but he will be present at every one of them. As a red demon automobile he will make a desperate effort to keep most of the political crowd from him.

The campaign will be managed upon American lines, and the performances will be as spectacular as possible. Before the first of November Johnson's name will be known to every citizen of the United States and will be talked about at every cross-roads grocery.

If he could succeed in getting a seat in the Senate in this fall he will be the most formidable candidate the Democrats can name.

His endorsement of Bryan and the Kansas City platform will make him popular with the Bryanites, and his explanation of his reasons for doing so will doubtless be satisfactory to many of the other brands.

"As I look at it," Mayor Johnson says, "a state convention has no right to declare or report a platform or program for the nation. Democratic party and any other national convention meets the Kansas City platform stands and must be accepted as the national platform. The Democrat should be afraid to endorse his national platform. In regard to Bryan, it occurs to me that the Democratic party, as well as the Democratic party for president, is still the authorized leader of that party, and the popular vote can be had just as easily in accepting nomination as in refusing to mention the name of the man who has performed. Bryan may be right or wrong in his theories, but if he has been elected he may have been a mistake, but it was the platform and he was the candidate of the Democratic party. The convention has no right to repudiate either and continue to do nothing."

The money problem has not yet been solved, and is still one of the most serious ever offered. Bryan may not have been in the right. His position is not necessarily wise. Personally I never believed in the 16 to 1 doctrine. But the majority of the Democrats in the state have accepted it. The majority has the right to do what it wants.

That is the fundamental principle of a Democrat. He has given up, and therefore all loyal Democrats were compelled to submit.

Johnson will furnish whatever money is necessary for the campaign. He is perfectly able to do so. His fortune is estimated at $100,000, which is well invested in which Mr. McCormick's bonded property, and pays him large dividends. His income is estimated at several hundred thousand dollars a year, which will at least enable him to pay the campaign expenses without encroaching upon his principal business interests. He even more generously recognized than his political skill, but he has an abundance of both.

A GREAT PURCHASE.

Entire Stock of the "Bell" Bought by the Globe.

From Sunday's Globe-Democrat.

A deal of great magnitude was consummated last night by which the Globe, Seventh and Franklin, came into possession of the large stock of the well-known Bell telephone company. The firm was in business but a short time and carried a very large stock of up-to-date merchandise. It is now the largest telephone company to possess the Globe on a basis of about 45 cents on the dollar. Another great bargain event is in store for the St. Louis public.

BERLIN SETTING THE STYLES

Bonnets and Gowns from the German Capital Growing in American Favor.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

COPYRIGHT, 1902, BY THE PRESS PUBLISHING CO. BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Berlin is rapidly becoming a serious rival of Paris in millinery and dressmaking, as far as American custom is concerned. Several American ladies told the Post-Dispatch correspondent this week that they prefer Berlin to Paris because the prices are more moderate here, while the styles and the qualities of the goods have been greatly improved in recent years. That even the most stylish women do not hesitate to patronize Berlin.

Girl models, speaking English and dressed in the fashion which American women admire, are now a feature of the dressmaking establishments here.

The American business of one large firm Unter den Linden for the month of August amounted to $60,000.

MORE WEST END THEATER TALK

Grand Avenue and Olive Street, the New Site Proposed for a Playhouse.

There is reported talk of a West End theater. The course of Grand avenue and Olive street is the location most proposed.

According to rumor there is a plan to build a theater on the southwest corner on the vacant lots adjoining on Olive street, between Grand and Harrison. Mrs. F. A. Smith, Mrs. E. H. C. Moore, Webster Groves, Miss C. Hutchinson, Clinton, Mo.; Mrs. E. H. Peabody, Pittsburgh; M. M. Belt, Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Kate Hardin, Oklahoma; Miss Anna Hutchinson, Cincinnati; A. L. Marks, Cincinnati; M. S. Moore, Chicago; J. B. Edwards, San Francisco.

Thomas F. Farrelly controls the lots adjacent to the public welfare building.

He states that he is interested in the area of maintaining law and order through the influence of his police officer, who was interested in one of the houses rather than owning wharves, warehouses, etc.

He declares the establishment of the corporation has operated to give the company a powerful monopoly, backed by military chieftains that President Roosevelt has been deceived regarding southeastern Alaska.

It is argued that the proposed location is convenient, but St. Louis should follow the lead of other cities in having the theaters scattered instead of grouped in the downtown district.

Drawing It Mild.

From Paul: My father used to tell me that all men are born equal, but that some are more equal than others.

Why? I said he was the worty I ever saw.

He said, "Well, I don't know why, but it's even worse than that."

OLD NASSAU WANTS MORE MATERIAL

Prospects for a Strong Eleven Are Not Bright.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 8.—The candidates for Princeton's football team will be called out on Sept. 15, two days before the opening of the college term. The prospects for a strong team are not bright. Almost an entire new line will have to be developed.

Of the eighteen men who faced the Yale kickers last November, only ten will return this fall—Davis, captain, and left end; Dan, right guard; Tom, right end; Henry, right tackle; Freeman, quarterback; Foulke, S. McCleave, and Stevens, Pearson, the three substitutes; and one of this number Davis, will be unable to play on account of the injuries he has received in the last two seasons, while Pearson, the third substitute, will not remain, having decided to leave the gridiron this fall and give all his time to affairs on the diamond.

VALUABLE RACES AT SHEEPSHEAD

Good Events Interspersed Through the Last Week's Program.

There are some valuable races interspersed through this week at the Coney Island Jockey Club meeting, including the Ocean handicap on Saturday, the omnium handicap, not to mention the Sapphire, Flight and Golden Rod for 2-year-olds.

With Saturday comes the winding up of the meetings, and the two big events with which the curtain falls are the Grand Western and the Animal Champion. Last year the latter race gave rise to the upset of the favorite, and the winner of Harlan and it is a hard race about which to prophesy.

New Blues nor Bonnibert, which took part in the Century, is engaged, but without a doubt the other contestants, Igniter, Mrs. Dangeford, Slipper, and Gold Cup will stand to take part, since the distance is three-quarters of a mile, further, and may effect a change in the form.

DAN PATCH IN THE 2:05 PAGE

Speedy Side-Wheelers to Compete at the Empire City's Grand Circuit Meeting.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Although a complete list of entries for the Empire City Trotting Club's grand circuit meeting next week will not be known for a day or two, Secretary Wilson announces that all the prominent Grand Circuit stars will be seen in the various classes during the week.

One of the interesting events is the 2:05 pace, in which are entered some of the best horses which have ever run.

Those that will compete in the fast pace which takes place on Thursday are Dan Patch, 2:05½; Mrs. Wilson, 2:05½; Almata, 2:05¾; Carl Wilkes, 2:05½; Darrel, 2:05½; Shadow Chimes, 2:05, and Fanny Dillard, 2:05½.

Oil Magnate's Son Leaves Bulk of Property to His Wife.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—An estate estimated to be worth $4,000,000 was left by Bradford B. McGregor, son of the late Standard Oil magnate, who died yesterday at Mamaroneck after a surgical operation. McGregor is said to have signed his will just before death and the document is said to transfer to his deceased bride, who was Miss Clara Schlemmer of New York. The couple had been married only a few weeks ago, greatly emaciated and weak, and the bulk of his fortune was given to his wife. When the doctor told him this, he and Miss Schlemmer announced their intention of marrying before the operation.

Dr. Bigger, speaking for the family, said: "McGregor, who was 30 years old, became ill a year ago with a kidney affection which the physician thought would prove fatal. He was sent abroad last spring, accompanied by Dr. Bigger, his fiancee, Miss Schlemmer, his maid, and his mother. On his return to this country a few weeks ago, greatly emaciated and weak, and the bulk of his fortune was given to his wife."

HUSBAND THREW THE HORSES

SAYD HIS WIFE'S COOLNESS EN- ABLED HIM TO DO IT.

The Frightened Animals Were Dash- ing Madly Toward a Swiftly Moving Railroad Train and the Coachman Had Completely Lost Control.

Of Them.

Mrs. P. Chouteau Scott of 446 West Pine boulevard saved the lives of her husband, her coachman and herself by not getting excited when the horses attached to the carriage in which she was riding became frightened and tried to run into a fast moving train in Forest Park Sunday afternoon.

An automobile frightened the horses. They became so unmanageable that the coachman could not handle them and Mr. Scott leaned over from the back seat and took them in hand. He turned the team into the road that leads to Union avenue from Forest Park.

There he saw a train coming towards the crossing at Union and Lindell avenues. He could not turn his horses aside. By clever management he managed to get them.

They fell to the ground ten feet from the railroad tracks. The carriage fell upon top of the horses and the driver was thrown ten feet. Mr. Scott's hands were cut by the reins and both he and his wife were bruised.

Mr. Scott was a member of Battery A during the Spanish-American war and was one of its crack drivers. He said, however, after the accident that he was able to do the quick thinking that he did because of the coolness of his wife, who, neither during the runaway nor after the danger of colliding with the train became apparent showed an evidence of fear. Mrs. Scott was Miss Adele Keller, a popular St. Louis society girl previous to her marriage.

A DOUBLE-HEADER TOMORROW

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—Owing to wet grounds the scheduled game between Detroit and St. Louis today was called off. Although the sun was shining clearly in the morning, heavy rains during the night had left the ground soaked and the air chill and bleak.

The Detroit management announced that the game would not be played. For tomorrow a double-header has been arranged. Shields and Frank DeMuth will be worked over by the Browns, who wanted to have today's contest held over.

In the remaining three games of the present series the Browns will profit greatly. The postponed game will then have to be played on the St. Louis club grounds, the date of the Browns being continued Thursday.

TO CURTAIL FAST DRIVING

Policemen Will Enforce a Speed Limit of Eight Miles an Hour in Forest Park.

Next Sunday squads of mounted policemen will be stationed along all the boulevards and avenues into Forest Park with orders from Capt. McNamee of the mounted district to arrest all persons driving horses or automobiles at a rate exceeding eight miles an hour.

The edict went forth Monday from the office of Mayor Wells to that of Chief Kelly and thence to Capt. McNamee.

"The speed of drivers on the boulevards and the park drives," says Mayor Wells, "is dangerous. It causes accidents."

About eight miles an hour, Chief Kelly suggested to the mayor, would be safe if speed were determined to limit driving to that speed.

The enforcement of the regulation will go into effect next Sunday.

TO FIND THE SMALLPOX GERM

Rockefeller Requested to Furnish Funds for Scientific Investigation.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Health Officer President of this city has sent a letter to John D. Rockefeller calling his attention to the fact that medical science has as yet failed to discover the smallpox germ and that such a discovery would probably mean the elimination of much human misery and the saving of many lives. He asks Mr. Rockefeller to provide funds for the expense of having an investigation carefully carried on.

MORE FINE WEATHER AHEAD

Dr. Hyatt Says St. Louisans Have Naught to Fear From the Elements.

More of the finest kind of weather—which is the way he puts it—"bright and Wednesday."

For once in their lives the "highs" and "lows" have settled themselves in quarters that seem fitted for them. Today there is a "high" on the Rocky Mountain side and a "low" in the lower lake region.

Monday there was much rain between the Mississippi valley and the Atlantic Ocean. The heaviest falls were in Illinois, Georgia and the District of Columbia.

The temperature in St. Louis is suffering from a fall of 10 degrees, which it took between the hours of 7 o'clock Monday and the same time Tuesday morning.

Temperatures in some other places had harder times. In Iowa, Nebraska and Wyoming the fall was on the way down to the freezing point. A light frost was evident in each of these states Tuesday morning.

CRONIN WAS "FINE AND DANDY"

Felt Very Fit Behind His Two-Carat Headlight, for He "Hadn't Done Nothin'."

There were a few happy men in the Four Courts Tuesday. Possibly the happiest was James H. Cronin, member of the present House of Delegates, erstwhile speaker of the same august body.

While his colleagues of the former House were in Judge Douglass' court trying to give bond for their release Cronin entered the room with a broad smile. He was wearing a white coat and tie, and about his mouth, at his throat, was a scarlet and below it gleamed his famous two-toned dandy.

"Jim" was certainly looking "fine and dandy," as he described his condition.

"I ain't good, now; I certainly 'ain't done nothin'. You don't see me here giving bond to the Post-Dispatch that I 'ain't done nothing, but I have given bond for my release under the bond of $100 for the man who beat me up."

Mr. Cronin was in very merry mood, and when he left the Four Courts he danced a pas de deux in the corridor and greeted all with a smile with a slap on the shoulder and a jest to the effect that he "hadn't done nothin'."

CAPT. TOBIAS WEAVER DEAD.

Old-Time Pilot Was Friend of Mark Twain's.

Capt. Tobias Weaver, master pilot with Mark Twain on his famous trip as a cub pilot, will be buried Tuesday afternoon at Belfontaine Cemetery, the funeral service being held at the home of his son-in-law, C. E. Curby, 3433 Hawthorne boulevard, at 2:30 o'clock.

Capt. Weaver was 77 years of age. He died last Friday at the Curby residence, where for some years he had made his home. He was one of the oldest steamboatmen in St. Louis.

He had been a pilot on the rivers of Missouri river steamboating Capt. Weaver was a pilot on that stream, guiding boats up as fast as the yellow current would permit him to do.

It is said that Samuel L. Clemens, when he married, took Capt. Weaver to his new home in the engine cabin and fondly called him "Uncle Tobias." When he died, Capt. Weaver.

MISS ALMA HOEFS WENT TO CLAYTON AND MARRIED VIRGIL MOTTET, A WELL-KNOWN FARMER.

Miss Alma Hoefs, the daughter of 4224 St. Louis avenue, was married shortly after midnight Sunday night at Clayton to Virgil Mottet, a farmer living near Wellston, Mo.

The young couple's parents had not even known each other until the wedding.

The couple left for Mr. Mottet's farm at 2:30 o'clock.

FOURTH RACE TODAY IS A BATTLE ROYAL

Foundling, Ethylene and Port Royal Will Be the Principal Rivals in the Event and Should Put Up a Grand Contest.

BY R. D. WALSH.

A most interesting program is scheduled for this afternoon's racing at Delmar. The fourth race, which is for a purse at seven furlongs, completely overshadows in importance the handicap which is supposed to be the feature of the day. With favorable conditions it will be a grand contest.

After last night's rain the track will be slow if not heavy, and that will detract considerably from the interest in the race.

As stated a few days ago in these pages, Port Royal is one of a number of thoroughbreds leased by Dr. S. W. Street from the famous eastern turfman, James R. Keene.

He is an exceptionally good colt and is royally bred, being by the great Kingston out of Maurine. Saratoga has been the scene of his best efforts, and while he has made no records has covered a mile in 1:40. He is a fine-colored gelding in top form. These are grand performances, and prove him to be high class.

The others looking about him on which there can be no discussion as to their ability to go the route. Any horse that can run a mile and a eighth in 1:41-1 should certainly be a good second-fiddle. The race, however, puts him out of consideration. Anteager is good on a heavy track and will be able to get into the game before the week is out.

VARRO NEEDS FAST TRACK.
I selected Varro in the handicap on the basis of a fast track, but Ida Penzance and Sain Coat will probably both beat him if it is heavy.

Ethylene is greatly favored by the weights and is a fine-class mudder. He will cast my vote for him in the going heavy. On a good, fast track she has hardly a chance to beat Varro or Bacchus.

The others are good on a heavy track and prove him to be high class.

There is nothing about him on which there can be no discussion as to his ability to go the route. Any horse that can run a mile and a eighth in 1:41-1 should certainly be a good second-fiddle. The race, however, puts him out of consideration. Anteager is good on a heavy track and will be able to get into the game before the week is out.

HAS GOOD OPPONENTS.

It would not at all surprise me to see him win today, but he is going up against some very good horses. In M. S., and Missouri horses have always had a desire to successfully defend the honor of the turf within their own ballwick. Fund and Ethylene will make it hot for Port Royal.

I do not know how good Foundling may be, but he is slow. He has not yet been asked to race under these conditions here, but I do know that she has a marvelous flight of speed and that it will take a crack horse to beat her. She is a

PADDEN RESTORED TO HEALTH BY OPERATION MAY BE ABLE TO GET IN GAME BEFORE WEEK IS OUT

Abscess Had Formed From Slide He Made in Philadelphia Game and it Was Feared Browns Would Have to Finish Season Without Their Captain.

BY J. E. WRAY.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9—Fadden will rest easier today. At least James McAleer and all others interested in having Capt. Richard Padden in the game will. For a time yesterday it was feared that the final spurt for the moment would have to be made with a substitute at second base for the rest of the year.

Padden left St. Louis seriously ill. He had a high fever and was thought to be suffering from malaria. Yesterday he became so bad that he was removed to a sanitarium. An examination revealed that an abscess had formed at the base of his spine as a result of a slide in a Philadelphia game.

Dr. Charles Anderson at once decided that an operation was necessary. It took place at noon yesterday. After it was all over Padden was a much improved man. He will be out of his room today and may be able to get into the game before the week is out.

PADDEN GREATLY MISSED.

Padden has been greatly missed from the infield. Yesterday the club played as if it wanted a head. Wallace was acting captain, but the infield was far from being sure and every man inside the diamond made bad plays official or unofficial. It was so sandwiched in with brilliant playing, however, as to be excusable.

Friel will again hold down second base in today's contest. Shields and Kahoee are slated for third, works but Powell or Schupp must go in to help.

Detroit will use its best pitcher, next to Mercer and Mullin. Manager Dryer is astonishingly aggressive with his tail-end aggregation and is fighting to finish above last place. If St. Louis rubs it into the local club for four straight it will probably put the Wolverines again in the eighth hole, possibly for good.

HORSE RACING ENDANGERED BY PRACTICALLY RULING OFF BIG BOOKS

August Belmont, Chairman of the New York Jockey Club, Takes Action Against the Ullman-Weller Book to Appear Popular Criticism—Immense Bets Made.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The famous Joe Ullman-Kid Weller book practically has been ruled out of the betting ring at the Sheepshead Bay track. This action is a sensational step believed to have been taken to appease popular criticism that may yet result in crippling if not destroying horse racing in New York state.

Coincident with this, Justice Foster rendered a decision in which he granted a demurral to the indictment against Sam and Louie Belmont, who were charged with violating the law in running a poolroom. The effect of this will be that the court of appeals will eventually decide whether it is a felony to make a book outside a racetrack inclosure, yet at the same time it is a violation of the law to make one inside the inclosure. The present law is interpreted to permit this very thing.

BELMONT AGAINST PLUNTERS.

The Ullman-Weller book, in the parlance of the racetrack, is called the "big store." It gained great notoriety by the number of big gamblers—from $100 to $20,000—made by the bookmakers on single races and the publicity of the transactions in the papers. Some time ago, August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey Club, spoke on the eve of the bet that the Ullman-Weller book in backed by John W. Atkinson, a friend. John A. Drake, Dan O'Leary, a professional bookmaker, is also a backer.

The book has a bankroll of $20,000, and the sum of about $100,000 in single bets. John W. Gates created the Louisville & Nashville Railroad last spring from August Belmont, who was famous for his bookmaking for many years, and then sold it to J. Pierpont Morgan at great profit. No de-

DICK CROKER ON ENGLISH RACING

Says American Horses Have No Chance to Win.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Richard Croker, who has just arrived in town, announces that he has disposed of the greater part of the large stable he had in Eng and because he found American horses have no chance in Eng, as so heavy a hand cap is put upon them that there is absolutely no possibility of their winning a race.

Mr. Croker is proud of a yearling, for whom he is asking a price of £1,000 guineas ($25,000), about a £1,000 guinea less than he would not take double for them now.

LESSON NO. 3

HOW TO DELIVER THE BALL

By Edward A. Grath.

Having decided which starting position is best adapted to his physical needs, it is up to the novice to get the ball away from him properly. This is very far from being the simple proposition it seems, and the neophyte is apt to discover that a three-foot alley is all too narrow at the start of his experiments.

The principal trouble the beginner will experience in delivering the ball will be in getting it away cleanly. Even after much practice the knack of avoiding "lofting," hitting the floor of the alley a fraction of a second too soon, or of unintentionally hitting the ball, is acquired with difficulty.

Lofting is the most common failing of the beginner.

DON'T LET GO TOO SOON.

The novice is prone to let go of the ball too soon. As a consequence, it strikes the alley from an elevation and goes bounding

BRITISH PREMIER WON AT GOLF

Mr. Balfour Victorious in a Foursome Match in the North Berwick Links.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—England's premier, aided by England's former amateur golf champion, J. E. Laidlow, won an exciting foursome match yesterday rating 28, playing 30, against Mr. John Penn, M. P., and Walter D. Zoller, after an exciting contest.

This was the third annual affair, and is hugely enjoyed by Mr. Balfour. He and his partners hit the first hole in two, were down with a turn, but pulled up, and won the match on the home green by a long putt.

The British Open, at Port Rush, concluded with a mixed foursome won by H. Hilton, for the fourth time. His compatriot, F. J. T. Smith, and Mr. C. Cook, of the lad's Irish champ on-shore.

THIS THE AGE OF ELECTRICITY

WE PAY AS MUCH FOR IT AS FOR BREAD.

GREAT CAPITAL INVESTED

Edison and Elihu Thompson Have So Far Led All Others in Number of Patents Granted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The age of electricity is here. A review of the development of the electrical industry in the form of a census bulletin prepared by Thomas Commerford Martin, just issued, shows a growth in invention and industry as applied to transportation, illumination, transmission of speech and of power, that is nothing less than astounding. Moreover, it hints of new discoveries and improvements that promise to make a still more marvelous record. In this connection consideration is had of wireless telegraphy, automatic telephone, electric power, telephones, wireless illumination and, most wonderful of all to the lay mind, the manufacture of speech.

The bulletin tells of the universal improvement that has taken place in every branch of electricity. Most of the overtures are the striking features of power development, automobile, X-ray photography, etc., have been made during the last ten years of the decade, and even within the past two years. So swift is the growth, so astonishing the variety of new inventions, that the historian writes, his story becomes antiquated as compared with the improvement that takes place in a single year. The total production of 200,000 tons of copper electrolytically during 1890, but he can no longer be found in the market. Many aluminum, calcium carbide, carbonium, sodium, graphite and a hundred and one other substances produced in quantities that 25,000 horse power of electrical energy is now used at Niagara Falls in the production of chemicals and reducing metals.

The value of electrical patents manufactured in 1890 was $91,248,889. The total capital invested in the manufacture of electrical apparatus and fixtures in 1890 was $8,130,944. The industry is in its mere infancy. In the seven branches of electrical calling, light, heat, power, telephony, motive power, generation and signaling, 17,628 patents have been issued in the United States, 25,000 in the last half a year from 1890 to June, 1900, no fewer than 6796 patents were taken out. The number of inventors, according to the number of patents issued, is Thomas A. Edison, with 711 patents, and Elihu Thomson, with 394, up to 1895.

It Costs

More Than Bread.

The average annual expenditure for electricity, in one form or another, is $7 per capita. Of this amount $1.25 per head represents the demand for electric apparatus and supplies; 50¢ per head for traction, electric lights, telephones, etc.; 25¢ for telegraph, fire alarm, etc. 50 cents. These values are rapidly increasing, and will be still higher as much now for electricity as for bread.

The turning point of electrical development is coming with the introduction of the dynamo as primary battery. The relative cost of electric power from the dynamo as compared with the battery, is as 1 cent to 10 cents. The possibilities of energy through the dynamo are in still greater proportion over the restricted scope of the battery. The power of the dynamo has risen to 75 horse power. The largest dynamos are at Niagara Falls, where 10,000 horse power is developed in a single machine.

Electric power transmission is another development of the past five or six years, generally speaking. Apparently water power has decreased from one-half to one-third of the total power generated, but has been turned into electrical power and transmitted long distances. A small proportion of the energy in Niagara Falls is used in the transmission of Niagara Falls, Tonawanda and Buffalo, but the transmission of electric power in California, from the Sierras to San Francisco, is 100 miles, and the power is carried along the route for mines, lights, cars, motors, sewing machines, hoists and dozens of other uses.

Horse Cars

Wined Out.

In 1890 there was 1262 miles of electric railway tracks, and 2365 cars. In 1891 there were 56,638 cars, and the number of miles of track had increased to 17,968. Cable cars were the chief power, and horse cars were nearly wiped out.

During the five years from 1886 to 1900 electric power into the hands of the public increased rapidly. In 1890-1901 the number of horses in Paris decreased 6 per cent, and in London 10 per cent.

Electric fans are a noticeable feature in the use of power from lighting companies. The number of fans in use in the country used in this country was 12,700. In 1890 the country utilized electric power largely. Reference is made to the big elevators in the Washington building, which are driven by steam.

It moved 50 feet a minute, carrying 35 persons. With electricity as a motor, the elevator ascended 1000 feet in 100 feet a minute, with the same load. It ascends to a height of 500 feet.

The circuit of the telephone system in the country is estimated at not less than $30,000,000. Two billion conversations are made daily. The growth of telephone since the expiration of the Bell patent has been wonderful, especially in the Northwest. In 1890 the United States showed 100,000 telephone lines in use. In San Francisco the non capita is one in 6. In San Francisco, the non capita is one in 12, a rate that leads the world.

He Found the Water Fresh.

From the New York Tribune.

"There is no fool like an old fool, except an educated one." said a New England philosopher. With him James S. Porter of San Francisco read the "Homer Hoyt" book, and he told of a skilled assayer, who came from the east to mine for silver, found no silver, and reported that the miners were all crazy. The company sold the mine for a song, and the uneducated individual who bought it made a million working it for 10 cents a day.

I started a woolen mill in a town near the sea. The water was salt, so I built a dam which flooded the mill. We bought the big quantity of water, we paid the bill, and the water was salt. The bill for the first month was enormous. I went to the water board and objected. They informed me that the water was salt, and I paid the bill down on their rates. Going back to the mill I worked hard, but the water dried up. I pulled it up and tested it. It was fresh. I told my partner and told him to kick me. He did."
